

Website name: PopCultureDatabase

Desc: This website will be a personal database of all the pop culture I Have consumed. Pop culture is really an conglomeration of all content that is popularized through media and the public. I plan to make a personal database highlighting my favorite movies, shows, music, characters, and more. Pop culture can include any of those things but may also include: art, fashion, celebrities, beliefs, videogames. Anything with cultural significance is in play.
